

Imagine being strapped into a craft that is about to blast off into space!

What will you hear as powerful booster rockets hurtle you high into the Earth's atmosphere?

Imagine the jolt you will feel as the booster rockets detach and the external rocket fires up to launch you into outer space!

What will you see as you begin your journey into outer space?

Study*ladder*

Where will you go? Will you fly to the International Space Station?

