

Construct an experiment to gather data about heart rates.

Question: How does the heart respond to different exercises?

What you think:

Experiment: (How are you going to test this?)

Results from the experiment:

Conclusion: How does the heart respond to different exercises?

Further discussion:
Why does the heart respond this way to exercise?